How It Works

Job Training and Placement

Pizza Fusion Denver is a social enterprise of the Colorado Coalition for the Homeless designed to provide job training and employment opportunities to homeless and formerly homeless individuals in Denver who are having difficulty obtaining work in the community. Pizza Fusion's training facility and the broader Renaissance Works employment program is viewed as another step on the road to independence for Coalition clients. The skills that they master at Pizza Fusion enable them to be successful workers within the greater hospitality community and in other sectors. Pizza Fusion strives to establish strong relationships with business owners and managers in order to provide professional and successful candidates for employment positions.

Our Employees

All Pizza Fusion Denver employees, except for the General Manager and Assistant Manager, are homeless or formerly homeless individuals who are served by the various housing and health care programs of the Coalition. The employees receive support from the Coalition's employment counselors. From handcrafted traditional and specialty pizzas and sandwiches, to organic salads, tasty desserts, wines and brews, the Pizza Fusion team is committed to creating beautiful, delicious food offerings served in a friendly and efficient manner to ensure the best possible dining experience.

Proceeds
