2019
ANNUAL REPORT

Dear friends,

The Colorado Coalition for the Homeless accomplished a lot during 2019; the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020 underscores how important these accomplishments are. Our focus today is on our role in keeping vulnerable people safe and slowing the spread of the novel coronavirus within vulnerable communities.

This online-only presentation of the 2019 Annual Report allows for a “touch-free” delivery and allows us to redirect printing costs to the care of our vulnerable neighbors.

Throughout 35 years, we have demonstrated that having a home is the first and most vital step toward healing and dignity, creating baseline stability for those recovering from homelessness. For those who experience chronic homelessness and physical or mental illness, stable housing reduces their involvement with the criminal justice system and the need for costly emergency medical care. This approach works. Alongside our community partners, advocates, and donors, we’re stabilizing lives, reducing costs for the local community, and improving the quality of life for those experiencing homelessness—and for all of us.

Housing alone is not enough to end homelessness. Our expert staff integrates health and supportive services that include primary and behavioral health care, dental and vision services, and myriad other supportive programs like case management, job readiness, and childcare.

This is how we help to heal the whole person. And through this work, we create better communities.

This work has been possible because of generous donors like you, and strong partnerships throughout our community and the state. With your support, we look to the future, knowing we have the systems, the talent, and the tools—Homes, Health, and Hope—to tackle the challenges ahead.

With deep appreciation,

John Parvensky,
President & CEO

T.R. Reid,
Chair, Board of Directors

We believe homelessness is solvable.

Providing homes, health, and hope is the answer.

Healing the whole person

Comprehensive health care that meets people's complex physical and mental health needs is critical.

HOME

More than shelter

A home—a place that feels safe, a place with community—is essential for long-term well-being.

A better life is possible

Treating everyone with dignity and respect affirms their capabilities and fosters hope for the future. Plus, we provide a variety of other resources and services that support a person's ongoing stability.

New milestones reached in 2019

In partnership with the Colorado Department of Veterans Affairs and the US Department of Veterans Affairs, we began construction on the 60-unit Renaissance Veterans Apartments at Fitzsimons. Scheduled to open in late 2020, the property is co-located with other veteran services at the Fitzsimons campus in Aurora, Colorado.

We developed Fusion Studios, converting a former hotel into micro apartments, ending homelessness for 139 new residents. This development was done in partnership with the City and County of Denver, the State of Colorado, and federal funders, and adds to the continuum of housing resources to serve those with greatest needs.

The Coalition provided comprehensive services to 15,204 individual patients last year, and supportive services to more than 8,700. Every person struggling to overcome homelessness is also struggling to recover from extensive trauma. Coalition staff provided 5,732 individuals with counseling and behavioral health services. Substance abuse screening and treatment are offered to all patients, clients, and residents.

Renaissance Children's Center celebrated 20 years of providing trauma-informed early learning to children recovering from homelessness while providing an essential support that allows parents to work.

Our advocacy work led to laws and policies that will increase affordable housing, protect low-income renters and increase access to primary and behavioral health. In partnership with higher education, we are preparing the next-generation workforce to innovate in ending homelessness. We are looking inward and working outward to create a more just, equitable world where everyone has the right, and access, to a safe and stable home.

A Brighter Future for a Mother and Daughter

ON THE COVER Amethyst's mom Stephanie escaped an abusive relationship, then found herself pregnant and alone on the streets of Denver. Outreach workers and Family Support Services staff from the Colorado Coalition for the Homeless stepped in to help, connecting Stephanie to housing, services, and the Renaissance Children's Center. Today, Stephanie and Amethyst are stably housed and Stephanie is in employment training.

A Salute to Stability

Mike left an established military career to support his widowed mother. She died suddenly, leaving Mike struggling with grief, as well as loss of employment and his family home. He spiraled downward, finally landing in prison. After his release, the Department of Veterans Affairs referred Mike to the Colorado Coalition for the Homeless, where we connected him to housing, substance use treatment, and other services. Mike now has a home in a community with other formerly homeless veterans and is rebuilding his life.

Celebrating 20 Years of Healthier Families

Renaissance Children's Center is one of many supportive programs the Coalition offers to individuals and families. At the Center, teachers specially trained in the needs of children recovering from homelessness help them build the developmental assets they need to succeed. In 2019, Renaissance Children's Center celebrated its 20th anniversary.

A New Kind of Fresh Start

The Coalition's 20th residential property, Fusion Studios, a former hotel converted to micro apartments, welcomed 139 new residents with a combination of housing and comprehensive supportive and health services. The project demonstrated that new housing inventory could be activated within months to respond to the critical shortage of permanent supportive housing for individuals experiencing homelessness and significant health, behavioral health, and substance use disorders.

Paying It Forward

Chronic and untreated mental illness and alcoholism made it impossible for Cary to stay housed and employed. The Coalition helped with affordable housing, substance use treatment, counseling, and medication, supporting Cary as he has maintained stable housing, mental health, and employment for 17 years. He recently retired from his work at the Coalition as a peer mentor, guiding others as they recover from trauma and homelessness.

From Margin to Mainstream

When Maritza had a sudden loss of income, it started a downward spiral that led to homelessness. While living out of her car, she worked two jobs yet still couldn't overcome the obstacles to regaining housing. Then someone referred her to the Colorado Coalition for the Homeless, where she found help with housing and finding a living-wage job. Today Maritza is stably housed and self-supporting, and works to break down the stigma of homelessness by writing about her experiences.

Philosophy of service

We believe all people have the right to adequate housing and health care. We work to remove the barriers that restrict access to these rights. Society benefits when adequate housing and health care are available to everyone.

We create lasting solutions to homelessness by:

- Honoring the inherent dignity of those we serve, affirming their capabilities and fostering their hope that a better life is possible.
- Building strong, caring communities through the integration of housing, health care and supportive services.
- Advocating for social and racial equity, inclusivity and diversity and challenging the status quo in partnership with our workforce members and those we serve.
- Achieving excellence through continuous quality assurance, innovation and professional development.
- Using resources judiciously and effectively.
